- A great chance to leave your footprint within our Organization
- A dynamic workplace with fast reaction time and the ability to build creative solutions with flexibility and less bureaucracy.
- High level of care and passion
- An international environment with two teams, one in Switzerland and one in Sweden, and suppliers from all over the world

Responsibilities:

- Lead and develop our procurement team
- Be the prime commercial contact towards the suppliers within the company
- Define and reevaluate supplier strategies
- Manage, negotiate, and develop supplier agreements and build strong relationships to secure the commitment to current and future programs
- Visualize and develop supplier performance in line with established goals and requirements
- Define and manage supplier risks
- Consider and manage offset/industrial participation possibilities and requirements within procurement
- Actively screen the supplier market and evaluate new potential suppliers and the competitiveness of the existing suppliers

Qualifications:

- A degree in economics or engineering, ideally with a focus on purchasing/logistics or a comparable well-founded education
- Proven leadership and interpersonal skills with the ability to successfully coach, lead and develop a team
- Hands-on mentality
- Ability to work independently as well as good team working ability and capacity to drive a working process forward
- Ability to apply an overall perspective with a good commercial judgement
- Knowledge about strategic procurement, purchasing- and project management as well as quality- and environmental systems and requirements
- High capacity to acquire, apply and share knowledge
- Management ability, aptitude for building networks and very good cooperation and communication skills
- Desirable to have good knowledge about supplier markets, suppliers, products, customer requirements and business intelligence within aviation
- Experience in implementing an ERP System would be advantageous
- Experience in an EN9100 environment is beneficial
- Very good command of English verbally and in writing. For a placement in Sweden, fluent skills in Swedish are requested

Location / General:

- You can be located either in Sweden or Switzerland but travels to the other site will occur frequently, approximately 25% of your working time.
- Start immediately, considering possible notice.
